WHAT?

During the entire month of May, Rush Hour Karting, located in the White Oak Business Park at 5335 Raynor Road in Garner will donate 100 percent of the proceeds from its new Charity Race League to The Food Bank of Central and Eastern North Carolina. Local branches are located at 3808 Tarheel Drive in Raleigh and 708 Gilbert Street in Durham.

Race dates benefiting the Food Bank:

- Tuesday, May 6th, 13th, 20th, and 27th

Time:

- 7pm to 9pm.

WHY?

- More than 400,000 are at risk of hunger in the Food Bank's 34-county service area.
- More than 120,000 are children
- This summer, children who are on the free and reduced meal program will be out of school and will not have access to these meals.

HOW CAN YOU HELP?

- Individuals age 16 or older can register to race at Rush Hour Karting
- Cost is $30
- Race every Tuesday from 7pm until 9pm
- Race includes a Practice Session, Qualifier, and a Race Finale

STRETCH YOUR DOLLAR

- For every dollar donated, the Food Bank is able to provide on average, eight dollars worth of food or four meals.
