FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

November 14, 2007

Give, Grub, Go

Lowes to Provide Free Breakfast for Commuters

What: Eleven Lowes Foods stores in Wake County are hosting a Friends Feeding Friends Commuter Special to benefit the Food Bank of Central & Eastern North Carolina. Special drive-through lanes will be set up outside each store to enable commuters to purchase a $5 bag of food as a donation and get a free breakfast without ever leaving their cars.

The Commuter Special is part of Lowes Foods' annual Friends Feeding Friends food drive. The goal is to raise 700,000 pounds of food through the food drive, which runs until December 31 at all Lowes Foods stores.

Since Friends Feeding Friends began in 1995, 4 million pounds of food have been collected through the annual event and distributed to organizations that feed the hungry. The food drive is a significant source of food for all of the Second Harvest Food Banks in North Carolina. The Food Bank of Central & Eastern North Carolina is a member of the America's Second Harvest Food Bank Network.
